$4,000 Refund Ruled In Local Cotton Picker Case

AUSTIN, Jan. 29—The Texas Supreme Court has held that the Bryan Tractor and Implement Co. must refund $4,000 of the $5,000 Ed O. Pagel of Milam county paid them for a cotton picker in 1951.

The decision of the high court was not to review the findings of Judge O. D. Graham's district court in Cameron, which was upheld in the Third Court of Civil Appeals in Austin.

Judge Graham's trial court held that Pagel was entitled to the refund because the machine would not pick as well as he though it would when he bought it. Pagel produced witnesses to prove that it failed to pick about half of his cotton and that it wasted 30 to 35 percent of it on the ground or stalk.

The implement company based its contention on the fact that Pagel signed a conditional sales contract containing a clause saying "no warranties, express or implied, had been made by the seller unless endorsed hereon in writing." Thus, they argued, Pagel got no assurance from the company that the machine would pick his cotton any better than it did. Pagel convinced the jury that the salesman had represented the contract as just a note and mortgage, and based on this the jury held that he had not signed away his right to require that the picker perform in the manner that the salesman had said that it would.

$705 Collected In MOD Bucket Brigade Saturday

The March of Dimes Bucket Brigade was deemed a success by Hinton H. Pruett, chairman of the campaign in Milam County, with $705 collected by the 80 men who solicited contributions at the stop lights located at the Main and North Houston intersection and the one on the new Temple Highway.

All of the men stationed at each point of the intersection were volunteers from organizations in town and volunteer individual citizens. They remained stationed at their posis from 8 a. m. until 6 p. m. Saturday, January 29.

At the stop-light in town a total of $423 was collected, with $282 collected on the highway.

Chairman Pruett said that one of the most novel stunts yet for the March of Dimes was the little caper pulled by the local Fire Department and assisted by the ambulances and several wreckers.

A fire alarm was turned in, with dense black smoke coming from the direction of the acution barn. Fire trucks, aided and abetted by trucks and wreckers turned into the fenced in area, followed by the cars. What was burning? A stack of old tires, purposely set fire to. All those following the trucks were charged a contribution to the March of Dimes before they were allowed out of the pins, a total of $32 was collected for the Bucket Brigade.

Council Hears Talk On P. W. A., Meters, Sewer & Water Problem

Councilmen turned in their suggestions for the names of the men and women best suited to write the new City Charter which has been pending for some time, at the Council Meeting Tuesday night in the City Hall.

Representatives selected by the men included: Henry Seibman and Marvie Caperton — names submitted by Johnny Anders; W. T. Hanes and Don Humble — names submitted by Gene Blake; E. L. Wied and W. F. Kuehl — submitted by Roy Griffith; Jack Prescott and E. A. Perrin — submitted by Milton Schiller; John A. Smith, Jr. and Dr. David Schapiro — submitted by Robert Weems; and Ada Margaret Smith, John Henderson, August Kunz, Johnnie Schmidt and Walter Lester — submitted by O B. Horstmann, Mayor.

The go ahead signal for the vote of the people on the selection of names was not forthcoming at the meeting, but after the first election of those to sit in on the charter planning sessions the group will proceed to write a charter for the peoples approval or disapproval.

At the beginning of the meeting Howard L. Grant, representative of an engineering firm out of San Antonio, presented informational data on the workings of a current Federal Public Work Administration, explaining how government "free money" could be allocated to the city of Cameron for its use in public works. Forty-five per cent of the money would be by grant with the remainer on a government loan.

He stated that the money could be used for any public work improvement in the city, streets, sewer, etc.

At the conclusion of his talk Gene Blake said that in his opinion the council should certainly look into the matter, and make application if they are eligible, since "we need some public improvements".

Schiller was more explicit, stating, "Oh, we don't need many..... just Water, Sewer, Street and Garbage".

Street reports and general discussion started with the report by Griffith and Anders, who handled the street situation and problems during the illness of chairman Robert Weems, that the contract on the house numbering project had been made between the post office employees doing the work and the city, and the project is now underway.

Blake then brought up the ever-prevalent issue of parking meters. He said that in traveling down main street Tuesday he noticed 14 cars sitting on meters with the red flag showing.

"I think", Blake said, "that if one man has to pay every man should have to pay".

After much discussion on the need for every person to feed their own parking meters and cutting out the need for city officer Marshall Terry looking up those parked over-time for metermoney, the council decided as a unit to press regulation of parking meter rules and proceed with further enforcement necessary.

They agreed that the main thing every city needs to satisfactorily carry out plans and projects for that cities good is a cooperative public and the aid of civic organizations to push the projects to success.

During the month of January the meters, at no large cost to any individual using the meters, brought in $791.14 for use in repair and conditioning the streets.

Anders presented a detailed report on how fire protection could be afforded "Alabama Town", listing 1,725 feet of six inch pipe necessary to furnish ample supply to three plugs in that area. The project which amounted to $5,015. was Department list of improvements and expansion.

Griffith reported that to date, for the months including October of 1954 through January of 1955 $70,972.87 in City Taxes has been collected. The roll shows $75,879.81, which leaves a balance of $4,906.94 yet to be collected.

City Poll Tax receipts totaled $203; Delinquent taxes $162.63 and occupational taxes $215.00 collected this year.

The City Secretary, Mrs. Neomi Needham was authorized to write a letter to the Southern Pacific Railroad requesting that blinker signals be placed at the Highway 190 crossing in Cameron. The councilmen stated that they felt that Santa Fe Rails maintained a blinker and the Highway 190 crossing is just as important and dangerous to motorists.

Another item brought up arousing the interest and ire of councilmen was the matter of cleaning out-door privies by the city and possible arrangement of charges to make payment necessary.

Blakes sentiments, backed by most of the council, were "I'd let them stack up until they had to wear hip boots. Don't clean'em, make them get rid of 'em".

City Poll Tax Paid Amount To 1,047

One thousand and forty-seven voters paid their city poll tax before the deadline, Mrs. Neomi Needham, city secretary, reported.

The total showed a slight drop from 1954, when 1,276 persons apid their poll tax.

Three aldermen will be elected in the coming spring election, with the election of a new city charter pending.

an editorial .....

There has been a mushrooming trend in recent years toward "creeping secrecy" in government —a feeling of public officials that the voters have no right to watch, and therefore judge, the official acts of the men they elect to office.

Public apathy has made it possible for public "servants" to close their meeting doors to the taxpayers, and to deny them the use of public records. In many Texas counties now it is impossible to determine whether the public treasury is being bled into private pickets, or the county governmental machinery is being allowed to fall into disrepair. The citizen can't attend the "executive sessions" of his commissioners court and school board, and he is met with a grumbling assent or even an outright refusal when he asks to look at county records.

This condition certainly doesn't apply to all Texas counties — but in at least three, one or more county officers has been indicted for criminal misconduct of office during the past year. Just as dangerous as the possibility of crookedness in office, however, is the idea that exists in the minds of such public officials that the public should not know how its business is carried on.

This exaggerated bureaucratic "need" of privacy does not tend to stagnate. It tends to grow. Unless it is stamped out at the local level with deliberate care, it tends to spread from a small flame in the brush into a roaring prairie fire.

There now are in the legislative hopper at Austin five bills which we consider to be particularly effective roadblocks to the runaway limousine of bureaucratic secrecy. These bills also have the enthusiastic support of Attorney General John Ben Shepperd, who declares that if they had been on the statutes a few years before, there could have been no Duval County, where, he says, it was worth a citizen's life to ask for an audit of county records, or challenge an officials's use of public funds.

These bills are:

1. HB 12, to require publication of the proceedings of the commissioners courts.

HB 13, requiring publication of annual financial statements for school, road, soil conservation and other districts.

3. HB 18, requiring immediate payment for the printing of citations in delinquent tax suits and proceedings for the sale of property to satisfy judgements in favor government bodies.

4. HB 29, requiring publication of the full text of city ordinances.

5. HB 148, making changes in the mandatory publications act to fix responsibility for causing publications to be made.

If these five bills become law, it will be virtually impossible for officials to hide behind a curtain of official secrecy. The bills not only prescribe what shall be done, but provide a penalty. An office holder is subject to forfeiture of salary and removal from office if he refuses to carry out his duty of publishing records.

In theory, the trust of public office requires its holders to conduct their duties openly. These bills make it certain that they do.

Who Must File Income Tax Returns Answered By Internal Revenue Office

Most of us need to refresh our memories about this time of the year as to exactly what are the requirements for filing income tax returns. F. J. Schultz of the local Internal Revenue Office gives us a few timely and helpful reminders.

First of all, each of us who had an income in 1954 of $600 if he is under 65 years of age or over, gross income in 1954 is required by law to file a return.

Even though gross income is less than $600, taxpayers will still be required to file a return if they have self-employment tax net income of $400 or more. As a matter of fact, it is to the taxpayer's advantage to file a return, in order to receive a refund of taxes withheld by his employer, even though his gross income was insufficient to otherwise require that a return be filed. If income taxes have been withheld from earnings and no tax is actually due at the end of the year because of the small amount of earnings, a return filed on Forms 1040 or 1040-A will serve as a claim for refund. The return should be filed on Form 1040-A if the income reported is from wages reported on withholding statements, and not more than $100 total of other wages, interest, and dividends.

The statement of the amount of earnings which requires the filing of an income tax return is sometimes misinterpreted by husbands and wives where both are employed or have taxable income. Because of our State Community Property Laws, which define what income is, a wife's true taxable income is ½ the total of both their earnings and is taxed to her accordingly by the Federal Government. Many telephone calls are received by the local office which leads us to believe that many working wives are under the impression that if they earn less than $600, they are not required to file or that they may file separately and receive a refund of all tax withheld. This is not the case because the wife has to count ½ of her earnings and ½ of her husband's earnings as her true taxable income. Ordinarily, that is definitely to the advantage of the two of them, who then may be taxed at a lower rate than if the husband had to report all of his earnings on a separate return and pay at a higher rate.

SOMEBODY MIGHT get hurt on your property and decide to sue you for damage. If this ever happens, you'll be glad you have an Ætna Comprehensive Personal Liability Policy . . . a lot of protection for little money!

Milam Gets Approval of Watershed Jobs

The Upper Brushy and Lower Brushy Watersheds in Williamson and Milam counties were among 25 watershed projects authorized in 15 states by the Agriculture Department in Washington, D. C.

The studies will determine whether the projects are suitable for federal aid.

Four of the projects are in Texas. The others are the Cummings Watershed in Lee, Fayette, Austin, and Colorado Counties, and Auds Wateershed in Lamar County.

The action in Washington was taken under a law authorizing federal financial aid ona local cost-sharing basis in developing such projects.

The Soil Conservation Service will make surveys of the projects to determine feasibility.

Work plans will then be developed and federal funds made available upon approval by the Interior and Agriculture Departments and Army engineers.

Congress appropriated $1,750,000 for such surveys and preliminary work on such projects and President Eisenhower has recommended an appropriation of 5 million dollars for the fiscal year starting July 1.

20,000 Texas Farmers & Ranchers Assisted By FHA In 1954

Nearly twenty thousand Texas farmers and ranchers received financial aid from the Farmers Home Administration during calendar year of 1954. These are families who were unable to get financial assistance from banks and other private credit sources.

More than 46 million dollars was loaned to these farm people. This was announced today by Walter T. McKay, State Director, Farmers Home Administration, Dallas. In the Nation as a whole, R. B. McLeaish, National Administrator, states that the Farmers Home Administration has leaned more than $292,452,800 to the nation's farmers and ranchers this year.

On the other hand, Texas farmers and ranchers paid off loans with the Farmers Home Administration totaling $36,539,147.

This is a remarkable achievement, McKay pointed out, in view of the drouth which plagued most of the state this year. "It shows the resourcefulness and character of those families who have received financial assistance from FHA," McKay declared. One of the major programs set up by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson to provide relief to farmers and ranchers in drouth disaster areas is the Emergency Loan Program.

McKay reported that 13,739 Texas farm families borrowed $25,442,174 from the Farmers Home Administration during 1954 under this program and have repaid $19,481,219 of it.

Also, a total of 1393 livestock producers have been advanced loans totaling $15,742,620 since the beginning of the Emergency Livestock program in August, 1953. "In spite of the drouth in most range areas, these same livestockmen have been able to repay more than $5,000,000 of their loans," McKay emphasized.

In addition to the Emergency and Special Livestock loans, the Farmers Home Administration lends money in its regular programs to farmers operating family-type farms for operating expenses, equipment and livestock purchases, for the development of Soil and Water resources, and for farm purchases, farm enlargements from appropriated funds, giving special preference to veterans. Insured mortgage loans were made for building and improving houses, barns, etc. and land purchases are made to all eligible farmers from these insured mortgage funds. The local County Supervisor and the County Committeemen in this county are Roy M. Wright, County Supervisor, Ed O. Pagel of Route 2, Buckholts; Frank J. Jahn of Route 1, Burlington; and A. Ralph Avrett of Route 2, Thorndale, as County Committeemen. The office is located in the Henderson Building Cameron.

F. J. Schultz, representative of the local office of the Internal Revenue Service, remainds taxpayers that they may claim on their income tax returns one exemption, resulting in a deduction of $600, for each child (including a step-child or legally adopted child) for whom the parent contributed more than one-half the support if the dependent was under 19 years of age or was a full-time student at an educational institution or pursued a full-time course of institutional or farm training under the supervision of an accredited agent of an educational institution or of a State or political subdivision of a State or political subdivision of a State during at least five months of the taxable year. To qualify, the educational institution must maintain a regular faculty and currivulum and must have a body of students in attendance. If the child is 19 years of age or ove and NOT a student, he must have received less than $600 gross income and must not have filed a joint return with husband or wife. No exemption may be claimed for a dependent who was not a citizen of a resident of the United States or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama, or the Canal Zone. For information concerning the children who are residents of the Republic of the Philippines and who were born to or were legally adopted by servicemen in the Philippine Islands before July 5, 1946, consult your Internal Revenue Service.

1,000 Farms Benefit From A. S. C. Program In 1954; Includes Conservation and Crops

Milam County farmers are proving each year that the Agricultural Conservation program has become a vital part of their farming operations.

During the 1954 Program year one or more ACP practices were carried out on over 1000 Milam County farms. Most of these practices were for constructing terrace systems to prevent erosion, farm ponds for livestock water, pasture improvement practices and Winter Cover crops to prevent erosion and enrich the soil.

Approximately $113,00 0.00 was used in Milam County during 1954 for Conservation practices. This is approximately half the cost of carrying out practices as the farmer receiving assistance must bear his share of the cost.

The 1954 ACP has also assisted farmers in the drouth area to plant needed crops for grazing and hay. This part of the Agricultural Conservation Program has been of invaluable service to Milam County farmers who have suffered from drouth and falling livestock prices.

Milam County Extension Agents Give Tip On Establishing And Caring For Lawn

I. PREPARATION OF SOIL: February is an ideal month to establish or renovate a lawn. Most soils where new lawns are to be started, are packed and are low in organic matter, low in Nitrogen and low in Phosphorous. To loosen up the top 6 or 8 inches of soil to encourage better root development and to let in more air and water, cotton burs, leaf mold, cas-to bean hulls and other decaying plants should be added. This material may be covered over the top of the soil to a depth of 4 to 6 inches deep.

Barnyard manure or commercial fertilizer should be spread over the top of the burs or hulls before they are plowed or spaded into the soil. The fertilizer speeds up the decay of the burs and adds fertility to the soil. A general recommendation for adding fertilizer is: 2 to 3 pounds of Nitrogen per 100 square foot, or a space 40 x 50 feet would require a 100 pound bag of 5-10-5 commercial fertilizer distributed evenly over the top of the ground. Smooth the soil with a garden rake or a drag. This is very important for a pretty, easily kept lawn. The lawn should be graded to slope away from the house at the rate of about one foot in 40 to 50 feet for drainage.

II. ESTABLISHING GRASS: Varieties most popular here are St. Augustine and Bermuda. St. Augustine grows in shade and Bermuda will not grow in the shade. Grass may be started by seeding, sodding, or by sprigs and runners. Seed should be planted in early spring only. Hot sun or heavy freeze will kill small tender plants, and shallow roots. Sodding can be done from early spring through October. Sprigs and runners can be set out from early spring through early summer, in rows 8 to 12 inches apart. Runners placed lengthwise in furrows 2 to 3 inches deep and covered with soil will put out roots at each joint and soon spread to cover the entire area if properly watered.

III. CARE OF NEW GRASS: New grass must be kept moist until roots are well established. Deep watering helps develop a deeper root system that requires less water in established turfs. Grasses should be clipped from 1½ to 2 inches, depending upon the variety. Weeds and grassburs are always a problem in a new lawn. The most effective way of eradicating these is by hand pulling.

IV. CARE OF ESTABLISHED GRASS: Apply fertilizer at the rate of 100 pound bag of 5-10-5 on a 40 x 50 foot plot in October, then again in February, each year. Water lawn deep about once a week. Bermuda is more drouth resistant than St. Augustine and requires less water.

$836.35 Collected In Mother's March

"Everyone cooperated in the Mother's March," Mrs. O. B. Harden stated, following the march Friday night, "but all contributions were small."

In the march the mothers collected $836.35, which included all the contributions but the Mexican district, which will not be completed until Monday and a few others.

Mrs. Harden stated that she and Hinton Pruett, county chairman of the drive, thought the reason for the small contributions to the Mothers march this year was because there are so many ways of collecting which were not available last year.

She said that she particularly wants to thank the captains, Lieutenants and their helpers for their excellent work, and to the people for their cooperation.

Soil Conservation District News

Supervisors: Edwin Fowler, A. W. Batts, Paul C. Graves, Clarence L. Stock and Hal Garrick.

For several years farmers in this area have used annual crops to serve as a cover crop and green manure crop. Even though these crops did a lot of good in the surface soil furnishing organic matter and plant food for the succeeding cash crop, farmers and agricultural workers soon learned that these crops were not doing enough.

In this area we have a lot of soils that have inherently tight subsoils that will not let air or water enter; then we have a lot of soils that are naturally open but have had their structure destroyed and hard pans developed by continious cultivation. Since the old cover crop program as we knew it was not the problem in the subsoil to allow water and roots to penetrate the county crops that we expect heavy par- [illegible] program [illegible] as A-3

Several fields in the sand seeded Buffel grass using this practice last year, and some K. R. Bluestem was seeded in the Blackland. Gordon Baskin has about 18 acres of K. R. Bluestem that was seeded three years ago and will be put back to cropland this year. We will be watching it to see what the grass did to the soil structure and productive capicity of the soil.

Farming Methods To Be Told By Harbers In Abilene On 8th

Clinton Harbers, who revolutionary farming methods won him the $5,000 Hoblitzelle Award in 1953, will discuss his farming techniques for farmers and ranchers Feb. 8 at Abilene Christian College.

Sponsored by the ACC Agriculture Department, the lecture and discussion series is expected to become a regular event throughout the year. To give each lecture the college will seek an outstanding person in the field of agriculture and soil conservation.

Harbers was selected the outstanding Comeback farmer in Texas in 1954 by the Scripps-Howard newspapers in Texas. Harbers' farming feats include earning $211 net profit per acre on dry-land cotton and 80 bushels per acre of corn.

T. M. Churchill, head of the department, announces that the series of lectures is designed to make a genuine contribution to farmers and ranchers of the West Central Texas area in solving their problems and improving their agricultural practices.

Moore Gives Opinions On Hybrid Sorghums

Several inquiries are received daily regarding hybrid sorghums. The present hybrids have not been widely tested over Texas. However, there is little doubt but what increases in yield similar to hybrid corn can be readily obtained. At this time no definite decision has been made regarding the release for release to seed growers, the county agent will be informed.

The present opinion of the Experiment Station sorghum personnel seems to be that (1) seed may be released for one acre crossing blocks in 1955, (2) the hybrid seed produced will be under a memorandum of agreement with the Station whereby at least some of it may be used for further testing, (3) and that an additional employee in the Lubbock area will be needed to do educational work with seed growers in producing certified seed and to produce foundation seed.

Foundation open pollinated seed of the following varieties are available to seed growers from the Experiment Station in 1955: Redbine-60, Redbine-66, Combine Kafir-60, Early Hegari, Combine Bonita, Hi-Hegari, Atlas and Sumac 6550. The Redbine-60, Atlas, Sumac 6550 and Early Hegari will be new seed while the others will be carry over seed from previous years. None of this seed will be available to seed growers in the plains area until at least April. We expect to plant all of the new seed in the Rio Grande Valley in January and hope that no one in the plains area will want any of the new seed until A & M and the State Inspectors have had an opportunity to see that it is as good as expected.

Those Receiving Main Support From Taxpayer Can Ge Claimed As Dependents

Exemptions for Income Tax this year include all members of the taxpayer's household—brother, sister, half-brother or half-sister, step-brother or step-sister, grandchildrn, parents, grandparents, or other diect ancestors, but not foster parents, Also step-father, or step-mother, aunts and uncles by blood. Also father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law or sister-in-law.

The taxpayer may also claim exemption for any dependent whether or not related to him in any manner, provided the dependent had his principal place of abode in the taxpayer's home and was a member of the taxpayer's household. Thus, an exemption for a dependent who is not related to the taxpayer in any manner may be obtained if the claimed dependent is actually a member of the taxpayer's household and lives in his home for the entire taxable year.

Temporary absences of the dependent from taxpayer's home for reasons such as vacations, school, or sickness, will not adversely affect the exemption.

Schultz states, however, that although a taxpayer may furnish the major support of one or more of the dependents, other than son or daughter, he still cannot legally claim them as dependents if they had gross income of $600 or more; if the dependent filed a joint return with his or her spouse; or if they were neighter citizens nor residents of Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama or the Canal one. Z

There are certain special cases in which exemption for a dependent is allowable for 1954 and later years even though one of the general tests may not be met. For example, the taxpayer may claim exemption for a cousin, provided his cousin lives with him as a member of his household. An exception to this rule, under which a taxpayer may claim an exemption for a dependent cousin who does not live with him, is that the cousin is receiving institutional care for the taxable year and such institutional care is required because of a physical or mental disability. To obtain an exemption under such circumstances, however, in addition to meeting the other tests, the cousin must be a descendant of the brother or sister of the taxpayer's own father or mother and must have been a member of the taxpayer's household before receiving the institutional care.

Under another provision, if over half of the support of an individual for any year is contributed by two or more persons each of whom, but for the major support test, would be entitled to claim the individaul as a dependent, then any one, but only one, of such persons who furnished over 10 percent of the support may claim an exemption for the individual. In such a case, however, each of such persons, other than the person actually claiming the exemption, must file a written statement that he will not claim the individual as a dependent for that year. The declaration should be attached to an made a part of the income tax return filed by the person claiming the exemption.

A NOTEWORTHY BIRTHDAY

We salute the Boy Scouts of America on its 45th birthday, now being observed during Boy Scout Week, Feb. 6 to 12.

Since its founding in 1910 the organization has enriched the lives of over 22,750,000 boys and adult leaders. Truly Scouting represents a living cross section of American life.

Boys of every race, religion and economic background are attracted to Scouting. Today we find 2,700,000 boys in its ranks. Add to that impressive figure the 960,000 adults of good character who give generously of their time and talents to serve as leaders of units, Merit Badge Counselors and in many other capacities. There is hardly an American family that has not felt its influence.

Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, the Chief Scout Executive, a leader in the organization since 1913, feels that it is of vital importance to train the boys of today to be ready for positions of leadership as they grow to manhood.

"Strong character, participating citizenship and physical fitness," he says, are needs of our boys and young men who served by the program of Scouting in cooperation with the home, the school, the church, and all other community institutions actively interested in training our future citizens."

Scouting's purpose, stated in the Federal Charter granded by Congress in 1916, is to promote the "ability of boys to do things for themselves and others, to train them in Scoutcraft, and to teach them patriotism, courage, self-reliance and kindred virtues."

6Every member of the nation's 95,000 Scouting Units is indeed "having some kind of experience that is adding to his equipment to meet the problems of adult life."

It is that training that we heartily endorse on this noteworthy birthday.

Mary Ann Vansa - Albert Vrazel Marry In Church Ceremonies

Miss Mary Ann Vansa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Vansa, Jr., and Albert Vrazel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Vrazel, were married Tuesday morning at the SS. Cyril & Methodus Church at Marak.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length dress of white nylon net over satin, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and long fitted petal point sleeves. The full satin skirt was covered with an overskirt of ruffled net trimmed with rhinestones. She wore a fingertip veil of illusion and carried a white prayer book and a bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Bernice Vansa, cousin of the bride, was maid of honr. Her dress was of blue nylon net over taffeta and was made similar to that worn by the bride.

Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Marak and Miss Bertha Horelica. Their dresses were identical to that of the maid of honor but were pink and yellow in color.

Lawrence Vrazel served his brother as best man. Ushers were Steve Vansa, brother of the bride, and Alfred Vrazel, brother of the bride, and Alfred Vrazel, brother of the bridegroom.

Farmland Prices Fell In 1954

Prices of farmland in Texas fell two percent in the four months ending November 1, 1954, according to a farm real estate market report issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

In general, prices of farmland strengthened in the central Corn Belt and some states along the eastern seaboard, while in most other states they drifted moderately lower. Texas was among 11 states to drop two percent or more.

New high prices were reached in six states, and in 16 others values were with in five percent of their previous highs. Largest declines were in the mountain and Pacific coast regions where farm real estate values in November averaged 15 percent lower than peak levels.

Most of the moderate change in land values occuring in individual states was credited to local and regional differences in weather, crop outturns and local supply-demand situations, says U. S. D. A.

In some Southeastern and South farm income and inability of many prospective buyers to meet lender's requirements resulted in a dull and inactive land market.

Wyoming and Colorado showed the largest declines in farmland prices, four and three percent, respectively, relecting the severe drouth in parts of these states.

District 22-AA Cage Roundup

All teams in District 22-AA basketball race remained in their same position except Cameron, which moved up a notch to share second place with Rockdale and Rosebud. Taylor remained third, holding that post to itself.

Still leading the district is Georgetown and Belton, each with a 4-1 record. The three tied for second have a 2-3 record while Taylor has a 1-4 record.

After completeing the first round of the double round robin, the teams switch into their second run of the closely contested race. Georgetown is host to the up and coming Cameron Yoemen; Rosebud goes to Belton while Rockdale goes to Taylor. In previous meetings of these teams, Georgetown, Rockdale and Rockdale were victoes. As the season has progressed five games, tables may be turned and those losing previously may turn up as winners in the cage rounds.

In The House of Representatives

By Herman Yezak

The State has been operating on a cash basis for over a decade. According to all estimates and surveys, it appears that if the Legislature should fail to correct the continued trend of expenditures, without providing a source of taxation, deficiencies will occur within the next several months.

All tax bills must have their origin in the House of Representatives and they are considered by its Revenue and Taxation Committee. New Tax bills filed this week include a one cent deduction gas tax on one thousand cubic feet of natural gas, one cent tax increase on each package of cigarettes, and an increase in the tax on beer from three dollars to six dollars and thirty cents per barrel.

Another big problem before the Legislature is water legislation. Every farmer that is a potential user of water for irrigation will be affected in some manner by practically every measure that will be presented before the Legislature.

To solve water problems by legislation is the newest approach to the water situation. There are only a few legal water experts in Texas and for that reason all legislation dealing with water problems needs close examination for its feasibility and need.

The Insurance Commission is divided into three departments of life, fire, and casualty. According to testimony before the Insurance Committee all failures were attributed to the casualty companies writing coverage on marginal risks under the provisions of the Drivers Responsibility Act.

Most of the insurance legislation introduced would benefit large insurance companies but in very few instances new and additional protection to the publice would be assured. Inflated valuation of assets was grossly abused in every instance where there were insurance failures. This one aspect of the insurance laws needs changing according to members and employees of the Insurance Commission that appeared before the Insurance Committee.

It will be very intersting to observe the changes that are proposed in our insurance laws.

Beef Briefs

Consumer income in the U. S. is expected to stay at a high level during the coming year, agricultural economists believe.

Dr. T. R. Timm, head of the Agricultural Economics Department at Texas A & M College, has surveyed the possibilities of consumer buying of farm products during the year.

Indications are that homemakers over the nation will buy meat with about $6 of every $100 they spend for food.

Cattle prices may be a little lower and the amount of money spent for livestock products may get more meat for homemakers than they got for the same amount during 1954.

Convincing homemakers that they ought to be spending more money for beef is one of the jobs which has been taken over by the Texas Beef Council, an organization formed last fall to promote the increased consumption of beef in Texas.

The Council is providing information of the lesser known cuts of meat which are just as nutritious and tasty as the expensive cuts, pointing out to housewives that they can get more for their money in beef than in other meats.

The Council is supported by cattle producers in Texas who contribute to its program of promotion of their primary product.

"Milam County" Subject of Emory Camp Jr.'s Junior Historian Published Article

the mouth of Little River, near the present town of Gause. The second village, Sarahville de Viesca, was located at the falls on the Brazos River near the present town of Marlin. This town became the capital of the colony until the outbreak of the Indian disturbances in 1836 forced the settlers to move.

The territory included in the original grant was first named Viesca for Agustin Viesca, who was elected governor of Coahuila and Texas in 1834. In 1836 the name was changed to Milam county in honor of Ben Milam, one of the Texans killed in the battle of San Antonio. The new county included all of the earlier colony, occupying about one-sixth of the area of Texas. The present boundaries of Milam County were established in 1861, when the line between Milam and Bell counties was determined.

Provision for the establishment of a permanent county seat was made by the First Legislature, which appointed seven commissio-

The third of four articles sent to the Junior Historian magazine from the Junior Historian club in Yoe High School has been published in the January issue of the magazine.

The article was written by Emory Camp, Jr.

Miss Ada Margaret Smith, club sponsor, said that she is very proud of the articles which the students submitted and were later published, and added that she is now having eight papers written which she will send in this year.

The Article written by Emory, who is now a sophomore in Yoe High School follows:

MILAM COUNTY

Milam County is one of the original twenty-three counties of Texas. In 1822 the Texas Association, which was organized in Nashville, Tennessee, sent Robert Leftwich to Mexico to obtain a land grant in Texas. On April 15, 1825, Leftwich was granted a contract to introduce eight hundred families. The land selected for settlement was situated above the San Antonio Road, and it included all of the present Milam County.

Immigrants from Tennessee, Kentucky, Mississippi, and Louisiana came to the colony, and two towns were laid out in 1835. Nashville, named for the city in Tennessee, was founded on the bank of the Brazos River, two miles below ners to select the site, and early in May, 1846, the site for the town was laid off. The site was chosen in a heavily wooded post oak area one and one-half miles east of Little River on property owned by Daniel Monroe, and the town was given the name of Cameron in honor of Ewen Cameron, a member of the Mier expedition.

Immigrants poured into Milam County when the Indian tribes that frequented the area were removed; by 1850 the total population of the county was more than three thousand. Until 1876, when the International and Great Northern built a railroad from Hearne to Austin, crossing the southern portion of the county, the rate of population growth was slow. After 1876, however, trade centered along the railroad, and Rockdale became the largest town in the region. Cameron was cut off from a railroad until 1881, when the Gulf, Colorado, and Santa Fe completed a line connecting the Gulf Coast with Fort Worth. The building of these railroads brought about a large increase in the county's population. In 1870 the population of Milam County was 8,984. By 1880 it had jumped to 18,659, and by 1890 to 24,773. The population was 33,120 in 1940, but dropped to 23,450 by 1950. The recent decrease was halted in 1952 with the construction of the large smelting plant of the Aluminum Corporation of America in the southern part of the county.

The basic industry of Milam County is agriculture. On the more than one-half million acres in cultivation, the chief crops are corn and cotton, but the diversification of farming has also introduced other crops such as grain sorghums, oats, peanuts, pecans, peaches, pears, watermelons, cantaloupes and tomatoes.

The mineral resources of Milam County include brick clays, limestone, coal, and oil, which are also sources of income. The lignite coal, which was at one time said to be worthless, has helped to make Milam County famous, and was perhaps the most important factor that led the Aluminum Corporation of America to establish its large plant at Rockdale.

Others having their articles published this year were Lu Wane Asher, who is now attending Baylor University and Nita Archer, who is also a sophomore in Yoe High School.

Four Lane Road Between Belton And Killeen Planned

AUSTIN, Jan. 25—The State Highway Commission assured a Bell County delegation of its support Tuesday in Construction of a four-lane highway between Belton and Killeen. About 25 Bell County people attended the hearing.

Chairman E. H. Thornton, Jr. of the commission said: "We seem to be in agreement that something must be done."

Heading the Bell County Delegation was Judge W. A. Messer who said "something has got to be done apparently from the state level to minimize killing and destroying property on this highway."

Highway Engineer D. C. Greer said the present highway is a 22-foot asphalt road in rolling terrain built at the outbreak of World War II. Greer said something should have been done sooner. He noted that military access road funds are not available.

"Time is drawing near when we should take action on it," Greer said.

Cost of the highway, Greer said, would be about $2½ millions exclusive of right-of-way.

Lt. Col. P. H. Bramble, Fort Hood transportation officer, told the commission that 20,300 military and civilian cars are registered on the post, and an additional 2,000 to 3,000 are owned by military personnel and not registered to enter the post.

During peak hours, cars are bumper to bumper from Fort Hood to Killeen and Belton, Colonel Bramble said.

Roving Dogs To Be Killed After February 1

Due to the packs of dogs owned by various individuals, or belonging to no one in particular, that have been roaming the streets, Joe Richter, City Marshall announced today that definite steps are going to have to be taken against unowned dogs.

Starting February 1, all dogs found roaming the streets, or reported to the City Marshalls office will be killed.

City officers report that for the past several months complaints against dogs in almost all locations have increased and now the point has been reached where every day and night someone calls in to complain of the noise created by dogs in almost every area.

Lack of Funds In TSCC Hampers Children's Program

"The needs of handicapped children are increasing, but funds to satisfy these needs have been steadily decreasing," states Martin M. Ricker, executive director of the Texas Society for Crippled Children.

Hospitalization, corrective surgery, braces, wheel chair — things required for the rehabilitation of crippled children—are no longer available for all who should have them, Mr. Ricker reports.

"If these agencies had sufficient originally designed to provide these services have had to discontinue much of their work because of a lack of money, and many private, non-profit organizations, like the Texas Society, have undertaken to supplement the job of these state agencies, he says.

The Texas Society will send a representative of their legislative committee, Euclid Hudson of Port Arthur, to Austin to work for a higher and more adequate appropriation for the state agencies that provide services for the crippled of Texas.

funds, they, together with the primuch more effective job of rehabilitating the handicapped," Mr. Ricker asserts.

TB Hospital Budget Deemed Insufficient

Appropriations proposed for operating the state's tuberculosis hospitals drew the concerted fire of medical and lay authorities on the of the Texas Tuberculosis Associadisease from throughout the state. mously condemned the budget proas inadequate and economically unsound.

A formal statement of the Association's stand noted that in some of the TB hospitals the appropriations recommended actually allot less for daily patient care than the institutions now have. This, the board stated, inevitably will result in an overall greater cost per patient to the state because of longer treatment periods, higher AMA rates, interrupted treatment and relapses.

Currently the TB hospitals are operating on approximately $4.52 daily for each patient. This includes drugs, surgery, food and all other expenses of staffing and running the sanatoriums.

For the fiscal year beginning next September 1, the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools has requested $6.66 per patient per day.

The appropriations bill now being considered by the legislature averages $4.68 per day.

Individaul board members, some of whom are medical directors of other tuberculosis hospitals, assailed the proposed appropriation as "unrealistic, uneconomical, in fact no budget at all."

Other chest specialitsts, reminded that the hospital board's request was carefully arrived at, that it was based on minimum requirements for safe operation of the hospitals, was well below average costs of hospitalizing tuberculous patients throughout the country and "should not be brushed off by those who know nothing of the medical requirements of this disease."

The TB Association also was told by its hospitals committee that its fourth annual survey of the state sanatoriums reveals a slow but steady improvement over the past two years, but that their medical program still is seriously hampered by inadequate funds.

Radar Used In Milam County For 1st Time

For the first time in Milam county the Highway Patrolmen, Otis Hildebrandt and John Balnsit, used radar in intercepting automobile drivers not adhering to the speed limit on Highways 190 and 36 Sunday.

During this one day the patrolmen contacted 38 violators.

The radar system will be used throughout the county from this time on.

Officers reported that they are contacting drivers at this time urging them to get their inspection sticker before the real rush begins.

Kiwanis Members Have Several Guests At Thursday Meeting

Several members of the Conroe Kiwanis Club were present at the local Kiwanis meeting Thursday noon in the Milam Coffee Shop.

Wiley Loughmiller, president of the Cameron Kiwanis, introduced T. Kimbrough, of the Conroe group, and he in turn introduced the guests, Raymond Weisinger, Charles Hale, Tom Falvey, Ernest Massey and Reverend Herbert J. Beadle, Jr. and Jerry Masseny of the Bryan Chapter and M. B. Crabtree a guest.

Following the introductions Rev. Beadle spoke on the experiences of the Conroe Kiwanis during its early years and the hardships it underwent. He said that most new clubs find many obstacles in their path, but the important thing to always remember is not to lose faith and to keep working toward a common goal of having a good civic club that is able to perform many things for local underpriviledged children.

He reported that the Conroe chapter just recently had a 25 acre tract of land donated to them, and they are building a $30,000 building for use of children coming under the term "delinquent" by law because of family misfortunes.

Hinton H. Pruett, chairman of the county March of Dimes, was also present at the meeting and several club members volunteered to help in the collection which will be taken up at the stop lights Saturday for the March.

Robert Glenn, Commander of Edwin Hardy Post No. 9 announced that the Post's annual barbecue will be held Tuesday night, February 8, 7:30 p. m., at the American Legion Hut, Ledbetter Park.

This event serves a dual purpose this year as the post is completing its 1955 membership drive and at the same time is commemerating the 36th birthday of the American Legion, which was founded in Paris, France, in 1919.

Several high officials, including the Department of Texas Legion Commander and State Adjutant, and district officials are planning to be present for this barbecue.

A good program has been planned according to Glenn, and plenty of barbecue, with all the trimmings will be served. Not only are members of the Legion urged to attend, but all veterans of World War I, II, and Korea are cordially invited.

The net quota for the membership Drive which preceeded the barbecue has been met, Glenn reported, but applications for membership into the Legion are still being accepted.

A Winner Every Time!

Last Friday at our big basketball game with Centerville I sat next to a fine-looking old man. Centerville had things their way the first half — and he cheered every score they made.

But our boys began to catch up. Then Stretch Brown put us in the lead with a long set shot, —and I noticed that the old fellow was now rooting for our side. "What team are you for, anyway?" I demanded.

"Neither," he replied. "I've got my own team. I figure any kid that does a good job out there is on my team. Root for the individual like I do — and you'll always back a winner!"

From where I sit, maybe it is a good idea to keep our eye on the individual, instead of automatically grouping him on teams you're "for" or "against." We're all individuals at heart, with our likes and dislikes — our right to prefer tea to coffee or beer to buttermilk ... our right to "blow the whistle" when anyone tries to regiment us.

90 Per Cent Parity Asked In Bill Introduced By Rep. Poage

A bill to restore 90 per cent support of parity for basic agricultural commodities has been introduced in the House of Representatives by Congressman Bob Poage, he reports in his weekly newsletter.

Poage wrote that "the President has, heretofore, indicated he believed agriculture to be in a prosperous condition in spite of the widespread low price of farm procucts. He has not indicated that he sees any similarity between the present and the period of low farm prices in the 1920's."

Poage added: "I am not predicting a crash—I am not predicting. Frankly, I am disturbed. I know that agriculture cannot remain sick without the illness spreading. I propose to try to restore the economic health of agriculture.

"I have, therefore, introduced a bill to restore 90 per cent fixed supports for the basic agricultural commodities. I think this is vital, but believe we all recognize that fundamentally we must increase consumption of agricultural products," he said.

Poage added that he met with representatives of some of the foreign aid groups like CARE. "They tell me they feel our foreign agricultural disposal program is being rendered ineffectual by the delays of red tape, and by the insistence of our government that we give away all we can before we sell agricultural commodities," he wrote.

He said all surplus commodities can be given without cost of needy people at home, provided the state in which the needy people live will assume the responsibility of passing on who is in need, and of distributing the food.

"The federal government will not only give the food without payment, it will also pay the freight (in carload lots) to central distribution areas within the state. The state in turn must agree to then distribute the commodities and to make the investigations as to need of the recipients," Poage said.

President Calvin Coolidge's father administered the oath of office to his son.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER FIGURES OUT UNIVERSAL PLAN FOR BUYING EVERYTHING FROM NOW ON TERMS

Editor's note: The Little River Philosopher on his Johsnon grass fram on Marlow has an impossible idea this week, which isn't rare for him.

Dear editar:

As an admirer of the down-payment system, under which a man can have the use of nearly anthing all his life without ever really owning it, I was interested in reading last night about a new system of installment buying.

That is, it isn't exactly new, but it's an enlargement and improvement of the present system, and I think it deserves more attention.

According to this article, there's a man out on the West coast who'll not only sell you a house and lot on the installment plan, but he'll included a new car in the garage,

I guess with the tank full of gas. One payment each month takes care of the house, lot, and car.

This strikes me as having unlimited possibilities, capable of lots of refinements. For example, under the present system, a man sometimes is pulled and tugged in several different directions by that many salesmen trying to sell him something on the installment plan, and after he buys a few articles he has a hard time just keeping track of where to send the installments than his salary comes to, and that may keep the wheels of the hauling vans moving but not the wheels of industry.

Under my system, all this will be eliminated. Say a young couple is just starting out but ain't willing to live any less comfortably than if they had already succeeded. You sell em a complete layout, from a house with hardwood floor to a new car in the garage, including of course television, air-conditioning, central heat, automatic washing machine, clothes drier, carpet grass, electric lawnmower, life insurance, adequate clothes, grocery allowance, etc. Then figure out, on a graduated scale, what his income will be for the next forty years, figure out his weekly payments on a graduated scale, the more he makes the more he pays for the next forty years, allot him two dollars a week for pocket change, and pay the rest directly over to the super finance company.

There ain't no sense in a young man waiting until he can afford to live like he wants to, let him buy everything he can dream of at the start and sign up for this life-time installment plan.

This way everybody can have everything he wants and won't anybody hardly ever get thrown out of work, because you let one man miss one payment and the whole system might collapse.

If I owe a balance on my subscription, just hold it until this plan gets into effect.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.
